

Chairman's Message

April arrives with a certain duality. The days grow warmer, the air begins to hold the stillness of summer, and yet, just when the heat seems to settle in, the skies over Bengal shift dramatically. The Kalboishakhi sweeps through — sudden, powerful, and cleansing. There is something reassuring about this rhythm. A reminder that change, however intense, often carries renewal within it.

This month also brings with it a series of occasions that invite reflection in different ways. World Health Day reminds us that wellbeing is not a distant goal but something we must nurture every day — in how we live, work, and care for one another. Hanuman Jayanti speaks of strength anchored in humility and devotion. Good Friday and Easter together reflect resilience, sacrifice, and the quiet promise of renewal.

Closer home, Poila Baisakh marks a new beginning — not just on the calendar, but in spirit. It is a time to reset, to approach the year ahead with clarity and optimism. And Akshay Tritiya, associated with prosperity and continuity, gently reminds us that what we build with sincerity has the potential to endure.

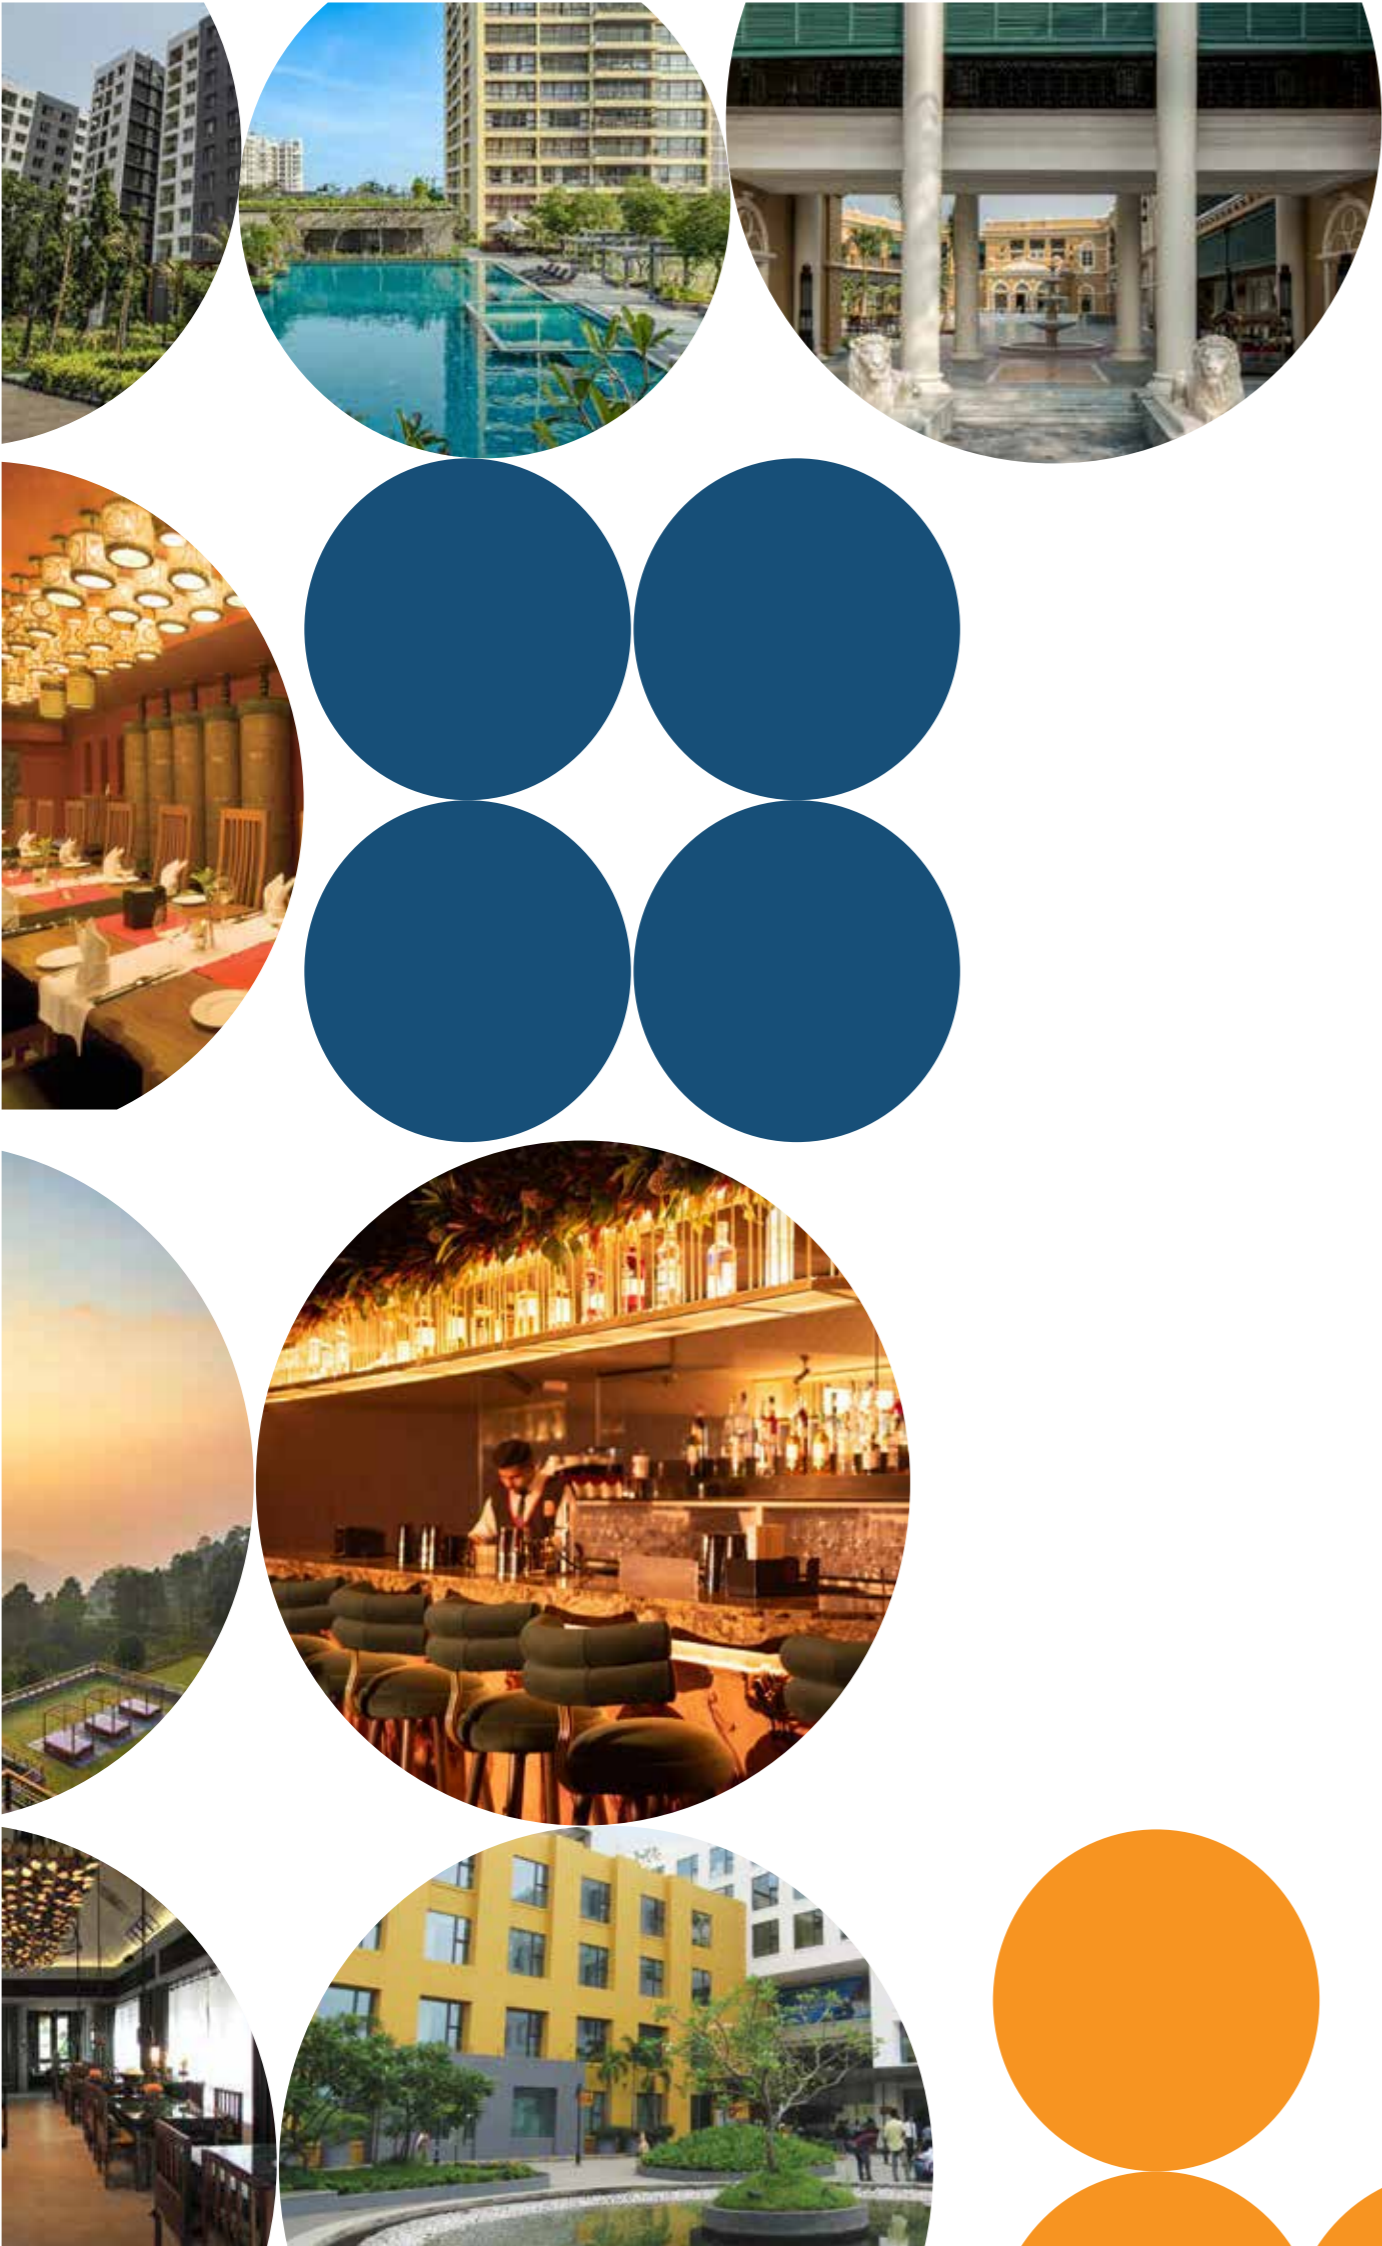

Amidst all this, Earth Day brings us back to a fundamental truth — that progress must remain in harmony with the world around us. As we continue to grow and build, the responsibility to do so thoughtfully becomes even more important.

Perhaps that is what April, in its own way, teaches us — to find balance. Between effort and pause, growth and grounding, ambition and awareness.

As we move through the month, I hope each of us finds moments to reflect, to renew, and to move forward with a sense of quiet purpose.

The Return of Sonar Tori

Familiar Comforts, Thoughtfully Reimagined

Sonar Tori

After a careful renovation and a momentary pause, Sonar Tori at Raichak has opened its doors once again. It is a return that honours the past — holding on to the rustic soul that patrons have loved for years — while evolving into a more complete and thoughtful experience.

Preserving the Essence

The fundamental draw of Sonar Tori remains unchanged: its proximity to the Ganges and the lush, sprawling greenery that defines Raichak. The architecture, inspired by the traditional Bengali aat-chala style with its iconic thatched roofing, continues to pay homage to regional heritage. Inside, the spaces have been refined to feel more open and comfortable, ensuring that the “luxury of unhurried time” is felt from the moment one steps across the threshold.

At the Heart: The Raja Thali

For long-time visitors, the culinary identity of Sonar Tori is synonymous with the Raja Thali. This grand spread remains firmly at the centre of the menu. Served in traditional brass (kansha) platters, it continues to celebrate the authentic flavours of Bengal — from the delicate crunch of starters to the rich, mustard-infused main courses that have made it a destination-worthy meal.

The New Chapter: Contemporary Additions

While the roots remain deep, the renovation has introduced subtle, modern layers to the experience:

NeoFocus

The Experimental Bar

A sophisticated new space that plays with familiar regional ingredients. Expect signature cocktails that use the aromatic zest of Gondhoraj Lebu and the earthy sweetness of Nolen Gur in surprising, contemporary ways.

Open Spaces

The layout has been thoughtfully adjusted to provide more room for relaxation, allowing the interiors to breathe and connect more seamlessly with the riverside environment.

NeoFocus

Inclusive Hospitality

Recognizing the importance of the whole family, Sonar Tori is now pet-friendly, making it an even more welcoming retreat for those looking to escape the city with their companions.

The Evening Ritual

As twilight descends over the river, the Ganga Aarti at sunset offers a moment of profound, unscripted peace.

Unplanned Moments of Magic

The beauty of a day at Sonar Tori often lies in the experiences that happen between meals — the parts you don't really plan for but always remember:

Cultural Connection

The soulful strains of a Baul evening and the simplicity of a riverside High Tea ground the experience in the local soil.

The Perfect Backdrop

With its attached banquet facility, Sonar Tori continues to be an ideal host for both intimate celebrations and corporate gatherings, blending professional service with a festive, relaxed atmosphere under the Ambuja Neotia banner.

Raichak has always been about the ability to step out of the city without going too far. With its recent transformation, Sonar Tori is ready again for those kinds of days — where the food has a story, the afternoons are slower, and the river is your only witness.
